

END-OF-LIFE: HEALTHY LIVING, GRIEVING, DYING

Saturday, November 6, 2010, 9:00 am to 3:45 pm, Duke Energy Center, Cincinnati, Ohio

Presented by Union Institute & University and the Academy of Medicine

Supported by a generous grant from The Helen Steiner Rice Fund of the Greater Cincinnati Foundation

9:00 - 9:30 am Registration

9:30 - 9:45 am Welcome and Introductions

David Wilste, M.D, Chair, Program Committee, Academy of Medicine of Cincinnati and Chair, Board of Directors, Hospice of Cincinnati

9:45 - 10:30 am Hospice Care: What, How, When & Why It Works

Sandra Lobert, CEO, Hospice of Cincinnati

10:30 - 11:15 am Be There for Me: The Art of Palliative Care

Marianne Matzo, Ph.D.,
GNP- BC, FPCN, FAAN,
Professor, Palliative Care Nursing,
University of Oklahoma

11:15 - 11:30am Break

11:30 am - 12:15 pm *When is "End of Life" and
and Why it Matters*

Joanne Lynn, MD,
Bureau Chief, Cancer & Chronic
Disease, Community Health Administration, Department of Health, Washington, DC; Clinical Professor of Medicine, George Washington University and Dartmouth
University

12:15 - 1:15pm Lunch

1:15 - 1:30pm Moderator and Introductions

Roger H. Sublett, Ph.D., President, Union Institute
& University

1:30 - 2:15pm Last Acts: The Healing Power of Hope, Humor and Grief

Sandra Bertman, Ph.D.,
Professor of Thanatology &
Arts, National Center for Death
Education, Mt. Ida College

2:15 - 3:00 pm Basic Legal Aspects of "End of Life" Planning

Colleen B. Laux, Attorney,
Vorys, Sater, Seymour & Pease

1:30 - 2:15 pm Panel Discussion

Dr. Joanne Lynn, Sandra Lobert, Dr. Marianne Matzo, Dr. Sandra Bertman, Manish Srivastava, MD, Medical Director, Palliative Care Program, Bethesda North & Good Samaritan Hospitals

The symposium is open to the public. Registration is required.
The cost for general public is $35 and includes a sit-down luncheon, beverages and snacks throughout the day, and special giveaways.

The cost for the medical community is $60 and also includes educational units.

To register contact the Academy of Medicine, (513) 421-7010, or visit www.academyofmedicine.org